DEAR LION RUSS:

Greetings from District 5-SE and Lions Clubs International (LCI). I am your District Governor for 2007-08 and I will be visiting the Redfield Lions Club on October 23, 2007.

I would like to personally invite you to attend that meeting. I would like to visit with you and all your fellow club members about the Redfield Lions Club. Some Lions attend nearly every meeting and work on every project, other Lions pay dues but attend few, if any meetings, and seldom work on a project, while still other Lions are somewhere in the middle. Whichever kind of Lion you are, you are a very important member of the Redfield Lions Club and Lions Clubs International. And even more especially, you are very, very important to the people that you and our Lions Club help and serve with each of our projects.

Because you are an important member of our Lions Club, I am asking you to complete the enclosed short club survey and bring it with you to the meeting on October 23. I want to know about the good things our club does for our community and people around the world and the good things about our meetings. I also want to know if there is something about our club that irritates or frustrates you (because if it irritates or frustrates you, chances are it also irritates or frustrates other members of our club). You do not need to sign your survey (unless you want to), so no one will know who made the comments. I hope to use the results of these surveys to have an open discussion with you and your fellow club members during my visit. The LCI theme for this year is "Challenge to Change" and this is a good time to analyze our club to see what, if any, changes are needed. We all joined a Lions Club to provide service to our fellow man and I hope this time together gives everyone an opportunity to determine if we are meeting that goal and help facilitate a change if we are not meeting it. I really hope you can attend the meeting, but if you can not, please mail me your completed survey in the enclosed envelope or give it to a fellow club member.

As I said before, I want to visit with you and our fellow club members to learn your opinions about the Redfield Lions Clubs, District 5-SE, and about Lions Clubs International. Your opinion is important to me. I need to know your opinion in order to provide our club, the Lions of District 5-SE, and LCI good leadership. I beg you, please fill out the enclosed survey and bring it to our Lions Club meeting on October 23.

Together We Serve,

Joan Marlette
